Judy Ribitch, Michigan

Judy began painting over 30 years ago and has studied with many national Decorative Artists over the years. Judy began painting in oils, but quickly changed over to acrylics studying locally with Mary Wiseman and Mary Luckstead. Judy began teaching locally at the “Craftmaker Shop” and at Michaels. Judy has been teaching at conventions both locally and nationally for over 20 years, Heart of Ohio Tole (Hoot), Mad Painting Convention, New England Traditions (Net), SDP National Conference, and Creative Painting Convention.

Judy has had her designs featured in the Decorative Painter, Tole World, The Decorative Artist Workbook, Painting, The Painting Rag, and most recently The Pixelated Palette. Judy has also had painted ornaments in the Smithsonian Institute and The White House.

Over 10 years ago Judy started a line of pattern packets. The patterns have been sold in Judy’s booth at the Heart of Ohio Tole Conference and at the New England Traditions Convention. Her patterns are also available at the Decorative Painting Store. Judy does teach at a home studio and travel teaches.

Judy is a member of the Society of Decorative Painters and Great Lakes Decorative Artists.
